Heping is a famous Chinese painter based in Shanghai who currently serves as a teacher at the Institute of Fashion, Art and Design of Donghua University. Having strong ethnic flavor and applying traditional skill in his early works, he later dedicates to discover a new artistic language, which combines the traditional calligraphy with modernism. His skillful use of color and line contributes to an unconventional, yet amazingly expressive painting style that conveys not only sensible logic but also unruly passion. And the perfect fusion of both eastern and western aesthetic elements makes his works able to attract viewers from all around the world.
